Dear President Miguel and Members of the Planning Commission:

Frontlyne Video has been a Polk Street institution for many years. We recently moved to a new location at 1428 Bush Street, between Polk and Van Ness Avenue. Our small business would like to express our support for California Pacific Medical Center's new hospital project planned for Van Ness and Geary, down the street from our new location.

This new project can only benefit our neighborhood, which has seen its share of the down economy. We are hopeful that the new hospital will be approved soon, so that this important project can move forward. CPMC's rebuild project on Van Ness will replace their current, seismically outdated facilities. UCSF and SF General Hospital are both rebuilding South of Market Street, and the CPMC Van Ness project is the only seismically safe hospital proposed north of Market Street. The high-density mixed-use neighborhood is a great location for this project.

We support CPMC and hope you will approve this project soon.

Sincerely,

Henry Silberberg
